
RESOURCES:

Below is a list of available resources on upcoming campaign events and tools you can use to prepare your students for Student Vote Week.

- BC Student Vote Website - <https://studentvote.ca/bc/classroom-resources/>
- 4 hard copies of the Student Vote Teacher Guide are available in room C231 if you are interested

- Vote Compass B.C.

Vote Compass is a great political spectrum tool to help people examine their political views and discover how they fit in the provincial political landscape: <https://votecompass.cbc.ca/bc>

For suggestions on how to use Vote Compass as part of an exploration of political perspectives and parties, please see Lesson 5 in the Secondary-level learning resources. A listing of the questions has also been posted, if you wanted to prepare for the topics in advance.

- Leaders' debate

The televised leader's debate will take place at 6:30pm on Tuesday, October 13. The debate will include NDP leader John Horgan, Liberal leader Andrew Wilkinson and Green Party leader Sonia Furstenau. You can watch it live or watch clips in the days following.

You will find a student activity sheet in Lesson 6 of the learning resources, which students can use to analyze the leaders' debate.

- Election Coverage

Visit these media websites for the latest election news and coverage:

- The Vancouver Sun's 'BC Election' page includes their latest election news and videos.
- The Times Colonist's 'BC Election' page features a listing of candidates and platform summaries.
- CBC News' election coverage includes an online poll tracker and a full candidate listing.
- Global News' 'BC Election 2020' site has a promise tracker, as well as information on how to vote and find your electoral district.
